This side event will focus on a civil society perspective of the following 2016 events: the London conference on Syria in February, the high-level meeting on pathways for admission of Syrian refugees in March, the World Humanitarian Summit in May, the high-level summit of the General Assembly on refugees and migrants in September, and the ExCom Conclusions negotiations process. Panellists will speak to their field experience with new arrivals in Europe, “long stayers” in Kenya and stateless populations. Each will provide concrete suggestions for follow-up action.
