Bibliography

Much of the data presented in this book is derived from unpublished reports and documents prepared by UNHCR and other bodies within the UN system, as well as fact-finding missions to refugee situations in different parts of the world. This bibliography, which is organized on a chapter-by-chapter basis, identifies some of the most recent, useful and accessible literature on refugee-related issues. Additional information and ideas on refugee problems can also be found in the periodicals listed at the end of the bibliography.
