

Conditions of grant media contest

“Sustainable development and addressing statelessness in Central Asia”

When you enter the contest, you are considered to have accepted and agreed with the condition of the contest and its instruction.

Participants who cannot participate in the contest are contest administrators or anyone professionally connected with this contest.

UNHCR has its absolute rights not to consider, and exclude or disqualify any entry without prior notice, where (1) you are and/or were considered to be acting/have acted in violation with this contest or other similar contest or abusing or tampering with other operation of other condition or of other similar contest, (2) information which you submitted includes false information, or (3) any other reason that UNHCR considers in its absolute rights as being inappropriate to accept an entry.

You must ensure that:

- a) the proposal that you submitted is entirely your original work and has never been used, published in whatever forms commercially or non-commercially;
- b) your submission has not been made in another person's name or with false information;
- c) you have not entered into agreement with any third party that breaches or violates any of the conditions in this contest, as well as other conditions set out from time to time by UNHCR relating to the contest;
- d) your proposal does not violate any intellectual properties rights or any other rights of any third party

Collection of information

When entering the contest, you give consent and permit UNHCR to collect and share personal data for the purpose of assessing your eligibility to the contest, administering the contest, publicity and marketing.

Privacy Policy

UNHCR will protect your personal information based on UNHCR privacy policy.

By entering this contest, you consent and give permission to UNHCR to collect and process your personal data for the purpose of the contest.