Operational Context:
The United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) Washington Regional Office seeks a Caribbean Associate in the Caribbean Protection Unit.

The Caribbean Protection Unit provides protection and assistance to asylum-seekers, refugees, and stateless persons in a particularly dynamic, unique, and challenging context throughout the Caribbean. The Unit covers 23 different countries and territories in the Caribbean, most of which do not have functioning asylum systems. Thus, UNHCR works with governments in Caribbean countries to develop and strengthen protections for asylum-seekers, refugees, and stateless persons, conducts registration and refugee status determinations for asylum-seekers, and monitors and reports on the treatment of refugees and stateless persons throughout the Caribbean region.

The Caribbean Associate reports to the Reporting Officer, or delegate, within the Caribbean Protection Unit. The Caribbean Associate is responsible for organizing and strategizing Caribbean engagement in regional trainings, processes and mechanisms, as well as undertaking a variety of reporting functions and coordinate and promote government relations.

The Caribbean Associate serves as the focal point for the Caribbean Migration Consultations (CMC), a State-led process that is jointly supported by UNHCR and IOM and requires intensive coordination and collaboration with involved government counterparts, IOM, and other relevant stakeholders. Planning and coordination of regional trainings and participation of Caribbean counterparts in a variety of regional or global meetings and capacity-building initiatives is also required on a regular basis. In this regard, the Caribbean Associate’s functions related to regional events and processes require both logistical aspects, involving close coordination with administrative, finance and programme colleagues, as well as substantive support functions for representing UNHCR externally to Caribbean governments and partners, contributing to the content of events and trainings, following the developments of relevant regional processes, strategizing engagement with counterparts in the region, and track and measure the effectiveness of UNHCR’s training investments in the region and for individual States.

The Caribbean Associate undertakes a variety of reporting functions (protection related) for the Caribbean Protection Unit. Reporting responsibilities require regular consolidation and synthesis of information received from UNHCR’s offices in the Caribbean and drafting and editing of both internal and external situation reports, briefing notes, fact sheets, talking points, analytical reports, presentations and other documents as required. As such, the position requires the incumbent to keep abreast of developments in the region, including UNHCR’s activities and the operational context, and have a solid understanding of international protection issues in order to effectively undertake reporting and external relations functions.

Functional Statement:
Responsibilities:
- Plan and participate in initiatives to build the capacity of authorities, relevant institutions and partners on matters of international protection by providing technical, logistical and substantive support;
- Contribute to the drafting of concept notes, agendas and other reference documents for regional events, workshops and other capacity building initiatives;
- Coordinate communications with participants before and after the event and contribute to impact evaluations, assessments, and follow up;
- Track and measure the impact of UNHCR’s investments on regional trainings
- Contribute to proactive information-sharing with partners in the region;
- Liaise closely with field offices in order to gather and collate accurate information about UNHCR’s activities and operational developments;
- Prepare, contribute and edit situation reports, fact sheets, briefing notes and other documents as required;
- Prepare information as required for missions and visitors, including analytical reports;
- Draft correspondence to government counterparts and other partners;
- Prepare and distribute minutes of relevant meetings and events;
- Stay abreast of political, social, economic and cultural developments that have an impact on the protection environment.
- Monitor protection and human rights risks and trends and provide analysis as needed;
- Other tasks as needed by the supervisor.
