Independent oversight in UNHCR (March 2024)

Oversight means the processes by which UNHCR ensures organizational, programme, financial, operational accountability, effectiveness of internal controls, including prevention and detection of fraud and malpractice. Such assurance results from a combination of management oversight and independent oversight.

The providers listed below provide independent and specialized oversight to give assurance and guidance on how the first and second lines are performing and offer solutions where appropriate. Given their independence and objectivity, the Inspector General’s Office, the Evaluation Office and the UNHCR Audit Service (OIOS) constitute the third line within the three lines model within UNHCR. Their role is to ensure quality, efficiency and impact in mandate delivery, including the effectiveness of internal control and risk management at all stages of an operation, function or activity.
