Operational Highlights

In May 2019, the OSCE’s Special Monitoring Mission to Ukraine (SMM) recorded approximately 29,300 cease-fire violations, representing a 6 per cent increase compared to the previous month. As a result of the continuous increase of shelling, the Shelter Cluster reported that 84 civilian homes were either damaged or destroyed on both sides of the ‘contact line’ in eastern Ukraine during May. This represents an increase of 42% as compared to the previous month. As a response, UNHCR and its NGO partners - Proliska, Right to Protection (R2P), Slavic Heart, the Norwegian Refugee Council (NRC), MOST and the Donbas Development Center (DDC) – are responding with protection and humanitarian support. Furthermore, UNHCR and its NGO partners MOST and DDC have been providing acute emergency shelter kits in areas that were previously inaccessible to humanitarians because of security and access restrictions. This includes 15 settlements near the ‘contact line’ in Donetsk Oblast where 165 acute emergency shelter kits have been distributed to conflict-affected persons whose shelters had been damaged or destroyed. Photo: UNHCR assists families with acute emergency shelter kits living in areas where it is still not possible to implement shelter repairs because of on-going security situation.

As part of its regular protection monitoring missions, UNHCR visited a number of isolated settlements located along the ‘contact line’. Highlights of the month included Novotoshkivke, where UNHCR and its NGO partner Proliska provided humanitarian assistance; Zolote-4, where UNHCR visited homes of civilians that had been shelled only hours before (Photo right) and supported the family with a NFI kit and individual protection cash assistance; Bohdanivka, a settlement that is cut from basic services in which only nine elderly persons still remain in six damaged houses. At the moment, Proliska has been assisting the remaining population with transportation to the nearby settlement for urgent medical assistance and basic supplies.

Between 22 and 26 May, UNHCR joined the 9th International Book Arsenal Festival in Kyiv. In line with this year’s theme of the festival: The Neighbourhood: An Open Question, UNHCR partnered with the Embassies of Canada, Denmark, Estonia, the Netherlands and Switzerland and organized a “Refugee Books Zone” where writers, readers, publishers and the public at large could learn about refugee authors and their books and gain a deeper understanding of forced displacement around the world. The “Refugee Book Zone” hosted unique events with refugee authors from different countries; some of them already translated into Ukrainian language. On 24 May 2019, a “Human library” was organized with writers from Canada (Kim Thúy and Larry Tremblay), Denmark (Kristian Husted), Estonia (Imbi Paju), and the Netherlands (Kader Abdolah), all whom have written books that depict the experience of refugees. After an introduction by each author, the public at large was invited to interact with the authors and learn about their experiences. Key Advocacy Messages for May

- Despite advocacy efforts, the Ukrainian Parliament has not considered Draft Law 6240, which would pave the way for IDPs to vote for majority candidates in the upcoming parliamentary elections. Therefore, IDPs will only be able to vote for political parties. In order to do so, IDPs are required to vote in their current place of residence. If they want to register elsewhere, such as in their place of current residency, they need to register themselves in the local registries of voters. However, the past Presidential elections demonstrated that many IDPs were not aware of this procedure. According to the Central Electoral Commission (CEC), some 76,000 IDPs changed their voting address for the Presidential elections. Therefore, awareness raising and public information campaigns for IDPs on the registration procedure could ensure a higher turnout of IDPs wishing to exercise their right to vote on election day.
MULTI-SECTOR RESPONSE TO REFUGEES AND STATELESS PERSONS

Protection of Refugees and Asylum Seekers

Starting on 1 May, UNHCR and NGO partners have been providing on-site training to new TsMU staff that have started receiving new asylum-seekers that had temporarily registered with UNHCR as a contingency measure while they waited for the TsMU to accept their application. As agreed between UNHCR and TsMU, vulnerable applicants will be prioritized. There are currently challenges in providing free interpretation services for the asylum-seekers, which the TsMU promised to resolve by the end of July. Another obstacle for asylum-seekers is a fine for those who took longer to apply for asylum. UNHCR is actively working to resolve these issues.

- During the reporting period, R2P continued its legal assistance on extradition cases (12 individuals, 2 of them in detention – in Kyiv and Chernihiv). In some cases, R2P has partnered with the FLAC.

Peaceful Coexistence Projects (PCPs)

UNHCR supports small to medium-scale infrastructure repairs proposed by communities or local authorities in eastern Ukraine. PCPs primarily support the creation of an atmosphere of peaceful co-existence between the displaced population and host communities and contribute to the prevention of tension between displaced people and the host population. Since the beginning of 2019, UNHCR has initiated the implementation of 43 Peaceful Coexistence Projects (PCPs) in eastern Ukraine.

On 27 May, UNHCR partner Proliska supported the House of Culture by providing a new boiler equipment, pipes, radiators and heating systems. Community Support Initiatives (CSIs)

UNHCR in Ukraine empowers communities of internally displaced and other conflict-affected persons throughout the territory. CSIs include a range of activities designed to mobilize and empower communities. They build on their education, skills, and capacities in order to strengthen their ability to organize emergency responses and self-advocate with local and national authorities as well as find durable solutions for their own protection.

Afraid of the shelling, the family did not leave their home. This is when on 18 August 2014, there was extremely heavy shelling. Sveta’s house was caught in the crossfire and shockwaves blew out all the windows and the roof of her house. The family tried to cope on their own and were even refused support from other sources. Thanks to UNHCR partner, the Norwegian Refugee Council, Sveta had her home repaired.

Shelter Cluster

- On 30 May, a subnational Shelter/NFI Cluster meeting took place in Volnovakha, Donetsk Oblast. The meeting discussed new damages, revision of residual shelter needs, winterization and activity updates from State Emergency Service of Ukraine (SESU) and partners. Different from Luhansk oblast Subnational meeting, taking place in early June, there will be an on-going discussion with SESU regarding their repair works of damaged houses. SESU is paying closer attention to Donetsk due to higher numbers of new damages in the oblast, which have been observed by the Shelter/NFI Cluster.
