Call for submissions

By now you all should have received a copy of the first Refugee Livelihoods Network newsletter. The first edition was considered a 'test run' where we hoped to solicit feedback on the layout and frequency of the newsletter. Thank you to all who have sent your comments and suggestions.

The interest and responses thus far have been very positive and encouraging. We are pleased to announce that there are currently over 135 subscribers and the number is growing daily!

The next edition will provide more content on the theme of refugee livelihoods drawing from a range of sources - most importantly from our subscribers who have information and ideas that they are willing to share.

The following section headings should be used as a guide in determining the category for your submission.

1. Featured Links
2. Key publications and reports
3. Learning and good practice
4. Forthcoming events
5. Work in progress
6. Discussions and debates

Instructions to submit information

1. Send submissions directly to Carrie Conway, Network Moderator.
 2. Indicate in the subject line - LIVELIHOODS NETWORK SUBMISSION - and the section it would fall under. If unknown please leave blank.
 3. Provide the necessary url link and home page if relevant
- * Authors please ensure that the text has been edited prior to submission

Once received the network moderator reserves the right to screen the content of postings and will not necessarily post all items received.

Please note that the Moderator will not accept announcements from people who are seeking employment or research funding. Commercial advertisements and other forms of 'spam' will also be excluded. This is for the benefit of all subscribers.

Please submit all documents and information to the Moderator by September 1, 2003. The next edition is scheduled to be sent out in mid September. Remember that there will be one or two issues published monthly, so there is ample time to get something if you do not do so for the first edition.

Comments and suggestions are most welcome and can be sent to the Moderator at any time. If you failed to receive the first edition and would like to have it forwarded please send an email.

As you may have noted the preferred format for the newsletter is HTML, however it is possible to receive the text version if your computer fails to read HTML.

We look forward to your participation!

There have been several requests from subscribers to share the names of participants of the Refugee Livelihoods Network, to facilitate further information sharing and exchange. Though there are benefits to this, the obvious risk involves the potential exploitation of email addresses from non-subscribers.

EPAU welcomes any suggestions from subscribers on how best to share the subscriber list while at the same time respecting the privacy of participants. Thank you in advance.

The Refugee Livelihoods Network is an initiative of UNHCR's Evaluation and Policy Analysis Unit. (EPAU) The views expressed by contributors to the Network and in documents electronically linked to the Network are not those of UNHCR. For issues other than refugee livelihoods, EPAU can be contacted by e-mail at hqep00@unhcr.org
